

- SAFETY NOTICE - FROM VALLEY ENERGY

This safety notice is provided periodically to all customers as part of Valley Energy's education program.

The purpose of Valley Energy's pipelines is to provide natural gas service to the residential, commercial and industrial customers of Valley Energy's service territory in the Valley, Chemung, Wysox and Towanda areas. The safety and reliability of this pipeline is important to our customers and the general public. Please take time to read this important document to be aware of how you can help us maintain a safe and reliable pipeline.

CALL BEFORE YOU DIG - The law requires that you contact the "One Call" system three working days before digging in Pennsylvania and between two and ten days in NY. Valley Energy will then come and locate the pipeline at no cost to you. The "One Call" telephone number is 8-1-1 in PA and in NY. Excavation includes installing fence posts, drainage ditches, planting trees, etc. Always hand-dig in the area of a pipeline. If you should hit a natural gas pipeline, please contact Valley Energy immediately.

ENCROACHMENT - Remember that no buildings, concrete pads, etc can be built over a pipeline.

AWARENESS - Please call Valley Energy if you notice any conditions that might cause damage to the pipeline. Be alert to and take care not to create erosion problems that might expose or reduce the depth of the pipeline.

LEAKAGE - The natural gas in the pipeline has a strong odor. Although gas leaks are uncommon, it is a good idea to be able to recognize them. Some signs are obvious and some are not. In addition to an odor, other conditions to look for that might indicate a gas leak are brown patches in vegetation near the pipeline, a hissing sound, water bubbling near a creek or pond, a mist, fog or a white cloud. If you smell gas, you should leave the area at once. Avoid using any potential ignition sources such as a vehicle, telephones, electrical switches, or flashlights. Contact Valley Energy immediately at 570-888-9664 or 1-800-998-4427.
